bers will issue, in the present month, the first number of a new nonthly publication to be entitled THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE, devoted to Literature, Art, Reli-

TIONAL MAGAZINE, devoted to Literature, Art, Religion, and General Intelligence.

Assuming that a "progressive" spirit, practical predilections, and the religious sentiment, are characteristics of the American mind, and that these are not incapable of union with the best asthetic tastes, it will be the aim of this periodical to combine, with such articles as the popular mind usually relishes with most avidity, an elevated literary tone, a critical appreciation of art, the discussion of great practical questions, and a just recognition of religion—religion without dogmatism and without sectarianism. Nothing shall appear in it which can directly or indirectly offend the general Christian sentiment, or render it un welcome to the current religious family.

It will be embelished with numerous engravings—most of them illustrative of real scenes or facts. Besides an abundant miscellary of Essays, Sketches, Translations, Postry, &c, original and selected, it will comprise departments of Literary News, Art Intelligence, Book Notices, Religious Information, and General News, prepared thoroughly by skillful ation, and General News, prepared thoroughly by skillful hands.

The public may rely with certainty on the regular and permanent issue of the "NATIONAL MAGAZINE," as the fullest provisions for editing and publishing it have been made, based upon a capital entirely competent to the design. It will be published at the commencement of each month, and contain ninety-six pages per number, making two volumes per anum, of nearly six hundred pages each. It will be the largest monthly of its price in the United States. A liberal discount will be made to wholesale purchasers.
